Speak the Word

3. A Note to the Reader

Front matter explaining the book's unconventional capitalization. Certain words are always uppercase, and satan is always lowercase, per Brother Copeland's practice.

Key takeaways

- BLESS/BLESSING and The LORD, The WORD, His WORD are always capitalized; Covenant is capitalized when it refers to God's holy eternal covenant.
- satan is always lowercase: in Hebrew it just means 'adversary' and is not his real name, and Jesus utterly defeated him, taking the keys of hell and death.

Scripture referenced

- Colossians 2:15 -- Jesus disarmed and defeated satan
- Revelation 1:18 -- Jesus holds the keys of hell and death
